

Poplar Farm Weekly Newsletter

Monday 7 March 2022

Thank you to everyone for your support with the World Book Day events last week. The children looked amazing in their costumes, and enjoyed visiting the book swap event during the day. Teachers shared a variety of photos on Class Dojo, so take a look! It would be great to see which books the children have bought with their World Book Day voucher, so feel free to dojo or tweet us a photo!

Another massive thank you to everyone for your generosity with donations to support families fleeing Ukraine. It was overwhelming to see the number of contributions, and I know the families organising the collection were incredibly grateful. Thank you again.

Attendance

Last week, Class 3A had the highest attendance with 98.7%. Well done!

Due to a rise in tummy bugs last week, the whole school attendance for the week was 90.9%, which means the attendance for the year to date has remained at 94.9%.

Thank you for your ongoing support with attendance during the pandemic.

British Science Week

Monday 14 March is the start of British Science Week, and we'd love for you to join in with our science work!

From 2pm on Monday 14 March, parents or grandparents are welcome to come in to school and work with your child in a whole school science investigation. More will be revealed on the day, but please add the date to your diary so you don't miss the fun!

Y4 Residential

Staff have planned a number of school visits and visitors since the opening of our school, but we are delighted to be able to share our plans with the current Y3 parents about the first Poplar Farm School residential!

The residential will be for 2 nights, and will take place in June 2023, when the children are in Year 4.

To find out more about our plans, please join us for an information meeting in school on Monday 28 March at 5pm.
